This completely restored traditional house has been decorated and lovingly designed into a unique and quaint country home. Entering from the private front terrace with fantastic views, a door leads into a long kitchen and corner dining area with open plan into a raised sitting room. The floors are traditional stone tile and the ceilings are open wood beamed. The kitchen is well-equipped for cooking your favourite meals with plenty of counter space and decorated in a country island style. The round dining table has comfortable seating with built-in sofa area and cushioned chairs. By stepping up three stairs, you enter a cosy sitting room with a corner fireplace. The traditional island decor mixed with trinkets from far away travels gives it a character all it`s own. The corner sofa seating is full of big cushions to curl up with a good book or take an afternoon siesta.

From the sitting room, a stone stairway ascends to the second level. At the top of the stairs is a landing from which you find a door providing a second entrance to the holiday house. Also found in the landing is a w/ c with hand basin and entrance to a small room with a single bed suitable for a child. To reach the master bedroom you must pass through this small room. The spacious master bedroom has a beautiful elevated sleeping area and gives an exotic impression with large comfortable pillows and mosquito netting. Your ensuite bathroom has bathtub, closet and storage. This bedroom has wooden flooring and high open-beamed ceilings with French doors leading onto a balcony with some of the most stunning views found on the island. With an intense blue sea outlining the islands in the distance and the port of Loutraki below, it is an unmatched spot of tranquillity and beauty. There is no local taxi service to this house, so car rental is essential.
