The house is designed around a centre courtyard where one can find sheltered outdoor seating, a stone built barbecue and dining space. From one of four doors off the courtyard, one can enter the spacious sitting room and the open plan kitchen. The corner fireplace gives the room a warm touch, while French doors lead out to a terrace facing the sea. The sitting room and kitchen area is air conditioned.

The two lower bedrooms are reached separately through outer doors from the rectangular shaped courtyard. One bedroom has a bathroom with bathtub and shower/WC ensuite. The third bedroom is on the upper floor, which is reached via a set of outside stone steps from the courtyard. This small room has a double bed and French doors leading to a lovely balcony with views of the beach and sea below. All
